Why settle for less?

Why settle for less?

Many people find the stress, worry and anxiety of divorce very difficult. Don't let the financial side of matters add to their concerns. Let us help you and your client to settle their divorce with confidence.

Our goal is to help your clients make better, more informed decisions on all aspects of their finances - their pensions, their investments, mortgages, the matrimonial home - during and beyond divorce, saving you time and money and providing your client with peace of mind and security.

We are confident that not only can we reduce your workload but also add considerable value to your clients' circumstances.

What we do?

Recent examples of our work include:

- The quadrupling of the amount of state pension being paid to my client.
- Successfully arguing that a cash equivalent transfer value should be £140,000 and not the stated £90,000.
- Advising on 10 pension schemes within a divorce and reducing the costs of the actuary by £500 and implementation by over £4,000.

But don't take our word for it here are some of our clients and referrers testimonials.

"I am extremely happy with the advice and information Phil has given me, he was very quick to reply to me and has reduced my stress levels massively. I only wish I had contacted him sooner. Thanks for all your help."

Victoria Holmes,
Sudbury, Suffolk.

"I would highly recommend this company to anyone wanting information on pensions during, or after a divorce. Their professionalism and speedy response, is to be welcomed in an age where a lot of companies seem to have lost the idea of "customer service".

My query was replied to and resolved within 24 hours which was greatly appreciated.

Nigel Shier,
Lincoln

"I have had the pleasure of working with Phil O'Connor at The Divorce IFA and have found him to be both knowledgeable and approachable. I have been impressed with his client focussed approach and am confident and happy to recommend his services."

Karen Atkins, Partner,
Stephensons Solicitors LLP
